DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The present invention is directed to a method for automatically regulating an oscillator applicable to a low speed USB interface connecting system. Specifically, application has claimed uniquely distinct features in the instant invention which are not found in the prior art either singularly or in combination. An USB interface comprising an comparing unit which is used to compare a feed back controllable oscillating signal with a Keep Alive Strobe signal wherein the controllable oscillating signal is adjusted according to the compare result.

The prior art, Williams et al. U.S. Patent 6,297,705 teach another method for automatically control an oscillator in a USB interface wherein the frequency is compared using a counter and then coarsely and finely adjusted.

Lever U.S. Patent 6,657,917 teaches another circuit which is used to synchronized an external clock signal to an internal clock signal for an integrated circuit wherein the frequency of the internal oscillating signal is adjusted according to the voltage level as well as the frequency level of a specific range.

Chuang et al. US 20030227334 teach another self adjusting oscillator for a USB connectivity interface includes at least a voltage controlled oscillator for generating USB synchronous frequency required by a USB interface wherein the frequency adjusting signal is adjusted according to the ratio value of the feedback between the USB synchronous frequency and the captured USB synchronous frequency generated by the voltage controlled oscillator.

The above prior art, either singularly or in combination, fail to anticipate or render the present invention obvious.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
